Mary and John Lockwood

John and Mary Lockwood are a post-abortive married couple. Mary has had multiple abortions, one of which involved John.

Mary recently began speaking out in the hope of helping other women with the pain of abortion and to possibly prevent the years of suffering she has experienced.

John has struggled with the feeling that he did nothing to prevent the abortion of his child many years ago. He reaches out to other men who may have done the same. John regrets his lack of action and concern. He has found healing, though, in sharing his story with the hope of helping other men who suffer in the same way.

John and Mary share the suffering of an abortion together.

Putting long term corporate careers behind them, they both now work in the financial arena. Mary volunteers with committees through her church and serves on the Minority Outreach Advisory committee through Right to Life.
